Comments to the author

Reviewer 2: We appreciate you sharing your research with us. This article looks to be working toward something new, but it's in its infancy. Most of the issues with this study can be traced back to the literature review, where there is a severe lack of international references. The examples used are hypothetical and confined to the author's immediate geographic area.

Another issue with this paper is that it appears to be a translation that was poorly done, with obvious grammatical and spelling issues.

A literature-based hypothesis or inquiry has not been posed and subsequently answered with supporting arguments and/or empirical evidence.

Comments to the author

Reviewer 3: Strategies for Optimizing Learning Activities during the Pandemic and New Normal in Langsa City, Indonesia The topics of this paper are interesting, though well known. The structure and content must be revised, and results have to be better explained by authors before to be reconsidered for publication.

Title has to be shorter.

Abstract has to clarify the goal, and implications for education and social policy to cope with next pandemics.

Introduction has to better clarify the research questions of this study.

Section 2 and 3 can be merged as heading called: "theoretical background". Additional literature is needed to extend the perspectives and improve the discussion (see suggested papers to read and use all) Figure 1. Clarify variable and measure on y-axis. A note to the figure has to clarify the acronyms on y-axis.

Methods of this study is not clear. The section of Materials and methods must be re-structured with following three sections only and same order:

- Sample and data
- Measures of variables
- Data analysis procedure.

Discussion.

First, authors have to synthesize the main results in a simple table to be clear for readers and then show what this study adds compared to other studies. (using suggested literature)

Conclusion has not to be a summary, but authors have to focus on manifold limitations of this study and provide suggestions of education and social policy based on intrinsic and extrinsic incentives in the presence of pandemic crisis (see suggested paper), as well as how nations can prevent next pandemics with appropriate good governance and vaccination to mitigate negative effects on educational, social and economic systems.

Overall, then, the paper is interesting, but structure is confused. Some results create confusion... structure of the paper has to be improved; study design, discussion and presentation of results have to be clarified using all suggested comments.

I strongly suggest improving the paper, by using all comments (included all suggested papers) that I will in-depth verify, and maybe it can be considered.

Suggested readings of relevant papers that have to be read and all inserted in the text and references.

Dear Saifuddin Yunus,

Your Open Access article, Strategies for optimizing learning activities during the pandemic and new normal, published in Cogent Social Sciences, Volume 9 Issue 1, is now available to access via tandfonline.com.

Share your article now

You'll hopefully want to share your article with friends or colleagues (and then check its downloads, citations and Altmetric data on Authored Works, our dedicated center for all Cogent OA published authors). Publishing Open Access means your article can be read by anyone, anywhere, and we want to work with you to ensure it reaches as wide (and as appropriate) an audience as possible.

Author feedback tells us that something as simple as posting about your article's publication on social media is a highly effective way of highlighting your research. Find out more about how you can work with us to promote your work.

Not sure how to access your Authored Works?

If you haven't yet registered, you can do so using saifuddin@unima.ac.id (this is the email you used whilst your manuscript was going through production).

Once you've completed the quick registration you'll be sent an email asking you to confirm. Click on the verification link and you can then login (using the above email address) whenever you want to by going to Taylor & Francis Online. Once you have logged in, click on "Your Account" at the top of the page to see the latest updates on your article.

If you have any problems accessing your Taylor & Francis Online account please contact us. Thank you for publishing Open Access with us.

Kind regards,

Stewart Gardiner
